Happy New Year Stef,

Thanks for trying to send the letter, you may have more luck sending to my gmail account -

Redacted

I checked into the FR building - Holly told me the following:

"As far as using the Federal Reserve, the usual protocol is to email Debra.L.VanHall@bos.frb.org to check availability and then fill out their booking form."

We usually request the Maine room - You can view the different meeting rooms here:

https://www.federalreserveplaza.com/content/ME_Rooms-Maine.html

The site does have catering - if you want to keep everyone there - probably would need a meeting fee to cover food OR there are food trucks just outside the building, Starbucks across the street so lots of options for food. FYI, cafeteria at EPA is sad so we usually order food from a caterer when we have meetings there.

Lisa,

Our mail server is sending my attempts back as the file is too large. I will try to work around this on Thursday.

Apologies!
